DEDICATION

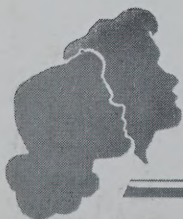

EDNA FRANCES SLANEY

The members of the Class of 1943 are proud and happy to dedicate their graduation issue of the Advocate to Mrs. Slaney, the much admired and very capable secretary of our High School.

Even though Mrs. Slaney always seems to have more to do than anyone else, she is never too busy to help wherever she is needed, and "Ask Mrs. Slaney" seems to have become a byword at Needham High.

Whether pinning on the girls' corsages at Proms, collecting money in the lunchroom, reading her numerous "fan letters" of excuses and dismissals every morning, or writing out an endless stream of late slips, Mrs. Slaney is always ready with a smile and kind remark for everyone.

As long as they keep their memories of high school days, the Class of 1943 will fondly remember Mrs. Slaney and her unlimited patience and friendly encouragement.

FOREWORD

THE ADVOCATE, in accordance with the Government's suggestion to economize on the use of paper, has suffered a condensation in its 1943 edition. We have, as seemed appropriate with the times, cut down our expenses; however, we have attempted to present to you once again a yearbook in which we have not sacrificed quality.

This year with the victories in North Africa and the possibilities for an invasion of the Continent, we may look to a brighter future than we could have looked a year ago. At that time, if you remember, Bataan had just fallen and Hitler was pouring his all-powerful armies into helpless Norway and Denmark. Fortunately, conditions today warrant more optimism. Thus, in our theme, we express the idea that the Class of 1943 may preview with realistic eyes a postwar world in which will emerge from all the chaos of war many scientific, social, and economic improvements. We feel confident that through our knowledge and skills obtained in school that we are prepared to make such a world a reality.

Although we must not forget that perhaps the hardest battle has yet to be fought, let us look for a moment to a brighter, improved world, which we hope will be the ultimate outcome of all our efforts.

To the Class of 1943, who are going out into a world of discord and war, where a great deal will be asked of them, and where they will need a knowledge of many things hitherto considered unimportant, the capable men and women on the Needham High School faculty have given much more than the required time and energy. This year especially, the teachers have willingly changed their courses and schedules to fit the needs of a wartime graduating class, and have been particularly helpful after school hours in assisting and guiding pupils in their plans for next year.

The Senior Class is especially indebted to their class advisors, Miss Harrington, Miss Lewis, and Miss Guthrie, for their helpful coöperation, practicable ideas, and patience.

Erlene is the "Irish Lassie" with a twinkle in her eye. In school "Chickie" is rather quiet, but outside of school, wherever there is fun, you can always be sure, she is there. We hear she is a smooth dancer, too, and in the future we hope "Chickie" will always find the going smooth.

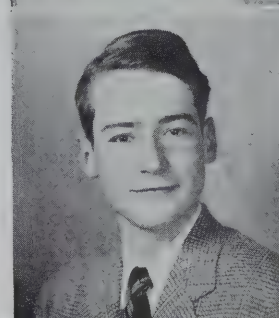

ROBERT NELSON McCLELLAN, JR.

Date of Birth—December 27, 1925 Place of Birth—Newton, Mass.

Our band would not be complete unless Bob was there to come chiming in with the cymbals. His friends can vouch for his sense of humor. Bob must enjoy music because he is also a member of the Boys' Glee Club. Next year he plans to attend Wesleyan College unless he is "caught in the draft."

ROBERT L. MACKINTOSH

Date of Birth—August 24, 1925 Place of Birth—Newton, Mass.
The football team has been fortunate in having Bob as a manager for the last three years, and the Advocate owes much to this super-collector of "ads." Contemplating the study of floriculture at Cornell, Bob will probably obtain his previous training with the armed forces in the destruction of vermin and such.

PATRICIA ANN OSGOOD

Date of Birth—November 6, 1925 Place of Birth—West Roxbury, Mass.

Patty will always be remembered for her portrayal of Jade in the Senior Play. She stole the show with her first appearance. LORRAINE QUIRK

 If you hear a lot of noise, it's not Lorraine. Tall, dark, and pretty, her inclinations are not towards athletics. However, she excels in the culinary arts which will serve her well as she plans to be a dietitian. We'd better keep in touch with Lorraine, and when we reach the "fat and forty" stage, she'll be the "friend in need."

Junior Prom Committee, Glee Club.

DORIS RICCI

Date of Birth—October 13, 1924 Place of Birth—Needham, Mass.

Although Barbara appears to be a quiet little mouse during school hours, she certainly goes to town when playing basketball and field hockey. In addition to school sports she also found time to play in the school band for several years. Barbara's plans for next year are still very indefinite.

"Jabber" seems to spend half his time upside down on the parallel bars as may be seen almost any afternoon on the first floor corridor. Besides being one of the prominent members of the Gym team, he has distinguished himself in wrestling. Alan plans to attend college for a year before entering the service.

"Oh, that's Bob Wise; you know him?"

Yes, everyone has some acquaintance with Bob through his interest in tennis, ping-pong, hunting and sailing. In the winter we all marvel at his grace on skis.

KENNETH ANDERSON

"Andy" joined the Navy almost immediately after his nephew, "Pepper." After eight weeks at the Great Lakes Training Station he came back to Needham for a week's leave with many interesting stories to tell. After his leave was up, he was shipped across the continent to the State of Washington to wait for a ship. By now he is probably somewhere on the Pacific smart dress uniform.

ROY ARRINGDALE

Roy is our representative in the Merchant Marine. He is now on the Great Lakes training to be an engineer's mate on the S. S. Thomas Wilson, a brand-new, ore-carrying vessel. Roy joined the ship's company late in April in time to participate in the maiden voyage of his boat. He is uncertain of the future, planning to work on the Lakes until September, when he may enter the U. S. Navy.

DONALD GLENN BROOKS

"Brooksie" chose the U. S. Marines for his branch of the service. He survived his boot training at Parris Island and left there with a couple of marksmanship medals. He is now attending Armorers' School in the Navy Yard at Philadelphia. During his training at school he gets a sufficiently long leave every third week to come home, so we see him occasionally sporting his

ALLISON CATHERON

About the middle of March, Al was called into active service in the Civilian Air Patrol, of which he was a member. He was issued a uniform and sent to Long Island, New York, where he became a radio operator for Anti-Submarine Unit number 25. He was sent down there as a private, but within six weeks, because of his experience, he worked his way up to a Sergeant. Keep climbing, Al!

ROBERT DANDROW

Bob was another of our boys who chose to enlist in the Navy. He received his training at Newport, Rhode Island, and after receiving his second-class seaman stripe he was sent to Gunnery school where he is now engrossed in a three months' course. According to some of his friends in Needham who receive letters from him, he is enjoying his work immensely.

RICHARD HAWES

Dick's experience in the Glee Club and Boys' Quartet at High School seems to have been of no little use to him, as he became a member of a Navy choir and a double quartet at the Newport Naval Training Station. While there he also received a marksmanship badge. He believes that he will soon be sent to Gunnery School in Norfolk, Virginia.

ORIN KENNETH MARTIN

"Pepper" Martin left us early in January to join the U. S. Navy. He finished his preliminary training at Newport, R. I., where he distinguished himself in marksmanship and as a member of the swimming team. He is now in the midst of a six-week course at Gunnery School from which he has hopes of graduating with a rating. Best of luck, Pep!

ROBERT POWERS

The track team received a hard blow when its star, Bobby Powers, left school to join the Marines. The life in that corps appears to have agreed with him as he looked fine when he returned from Parris Island on a furlough last April. He is now stationed at Quantico, Virginia, where he is doing guard duty at the Marine Base.

ROBERT W. RICHARDS

Our representative in the Merchant Marine is Bob Richards, who is training to be an officer in the Massachusetts Maritime Academy. He is now a midshipman, but after a training period of several months he will graduate as an ensign. His knowledge of sailing and his training in mathematics at High School should take him far. He has our best wishes all the way.

KENNETH MINKLE

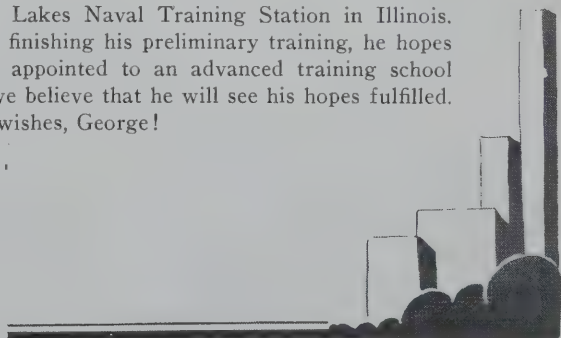

Kenny's sudden departure came as a surprise to most of us. Late in April he tried to join the Coast Guard, but found that enlistments were closed. He then applied for enlistment in the Navy and was accepted, sworn in, and shipped off, all within a week. He is now receiving his preliminary training at Newport and writes that he is enjoying it.

JAMES MURRAY

The Coast Guard enlisted a valuable member when Jimmy left us in January to join that branch of the service. Following his primary training at Manhattan Beach, New York, he began a three-month Commando course in which he is still engaged. Following his graduation from that course he may be given further specialized training, but he is not sure as to what type it may be.

GEORGE NEALE

The U. S. Navy also attracted another of the Senior boys, George Neale, who was sent to the Great Lakes Naval Training Station in Illinois. Upon finishing his preliminary training, he hopes to be appointed to an advanced training school and we believe that he will see his hopes fulfilled. Best wishes, George!

JUNIORS

This fall the so-called babies of last year had grown up over the summer vacation. When school began, they felt right at home and helped the lower classmen as much as possible with their troublesome questions.

A group of Junior girls have helped to fold bandages on Tuesday evening when they felt they could break away from their beloved homework.

In field hockey and tennis the girls played their part and played it well. Those of outstanding prominence were Dorothy Harris, Eunice Prior, Pricilla Brooks, Nancy Rice and Ann Stevenson. The boys, too, did their share in football and basketball and hope to continue next year, if the war doesn't stop them. Among the outstanding players were John Yaniak, Roy Johnson, Dick Greene, George Hill, Donald MacPherson and Alan Kinne.

The Junior Prom, which was scheduled for early February, was postponed until early March, because of the closeness between the Junior and Senior Proms. On account of the extra long vacation for rationing, the dance was again postponed until the first of May.

Assemblies given by Juniors have consisted mostly of movies. Of the most interesting were "Targets for Tonight", "Anchors Aweigh" and "Caissons Go Rolling Along," which were Room 309's contribution during February. In April a Junior home room also gave an amusing play, "Beeb-Beeb, Clang-Clang, Boop-oop a Doop" with thirteen boys and girls in the cost.

The class of "44" is expecting many disruptions caused by the war. Among them, the boys leaving, the question of the Advocate publication, and the possibility of not having dances, Class Day, or the formal graduation exercises. In spite of all, they hope to have a satisfactory and enjoyable year, and to hear good news from their classmates in the Armed Forces.

Back Row: G. Allard.

Well, the big day had arrived! The day they had dreamed of for nine years. Ever since kindergarten they had watched those hi-schoolers amble home, arms laden with intellectual-looking books, and had planned their own future likewise.

But now it wasn't just as they had planned. They hadn't counted on that weak feeling in their knees, or the choked feeling in their throat. They had planned on a wide audience of admiring and smiling faces, but instead, they were greeted with criticizing and laughing comments from upper classmen. They lived in dread of the chemistry room, upper classmen, and teachers. Everytime they reached the comparative safety of their home rooms, they breathed long sighs of relief. They wrestled with their lockers, which for some unearthly reason failed to open, until they were late for class and had to run up the stairs only to barge, red-faced and puffing, into some Senior room. As you can imagine, they hurriedly made their exit.

But, after a week or two of woeful attempts to go up and down the right stairs and to get to the right classroom on time, they finally caught on to the routine of life in

SOPHOMORES

Needham High School. They soon learned to find a seat at lunch and to push back when pushed. They finally even got to the stage where they could find the right seat in study hall.

Some members of this class who showed their ability in various sports were "Eddie" Vara, "Wagga" Richwagen, "Dick" Tamm and "Sandy" Smith, who were first team football players. "Charlie" DeVarennnes, "Eddie" Hoyle, Wilfred Roman, "Walt" Sibroski and "Frankie" Bell did likewise in Hockey.

As all things go, boys are usually mentioned first, but the girls could have been, for they equalled the boys in winning honors for their class. Dilla Adams, Martha Worth, Jane O'Connor and Emily Macy certainly surprised the school at the end of the Basketball season, at which time they had their first laugh at the other members of the team.

Their Sophomore year has been filled with many a trial and error, but they are just waiting for next year when they will be able to get a compensating laugh at the "poor little Sophomores."

Jeep Campaign

On April 16, 1943 a jeep came to Needham High School. It was the climax of a war bond drive that started March 16.

Our initial goal was one jeep in six weeks. During the first week of the drive, however, our school collected enough money from the sale of stamps and bonds to buy one jeep.

Spurred on by this success, the students and faculty turned in enough money for 12 jeeps. In all, we collected $11,143.70, with over 90% of the school contributing. Because of this, we received the coveted Minute Man Banner.

Much of our success was due to the help of Mr. Nelson, our faculty business agent, and of Mr. McLauchlan, the Needham Post Office official.

Silk Stocking Drive

Patriotic! That is just the word for pupils of Needham High School who definitely have revealed their patriotism in the various types of salvage drives—whether it was scrap iron to be used in the building of war machines or silk and nylon stockings to be used for equally important parachutes.

The idea of the Silk Stocking Drive originated with Miss Cowdrey. In the beginning, the only pupils bringing in stockings were those in Miss Cowdrey's Home Economic and Geography classes, who contributed 297½ pair. Later on, it was made a project for the whole school to work on; and a total of 1357½ pair have been collected. Credit must also be given to the Home Room teachers who have done much to "put over" this drive. In the lead is Home Room 305, with Rooms 313, 202, and 101 following.

This survey, taken in the early part of May, shows just what our pupils can do; and we will certainly reach, maybe exceed, our goal of 2000 pair by June 1.

V-12 and A-12 Tests

Between the hours of 9 and 11 A.M., on Friday, April 2, 1943, two tests were given in the Needham Senior High School. The V-12 was the Navy test, and the A-12 the Army. The purpose of the program is to produce Naval and Army officers. High school seniors, high school graduates, and college students who appear to be best qualified for selection as officers will be chosen for college training. The plan considers that this college training will be carried on while the men are on active duty, in uniform, receiving pay, and under general military discipline.

Twenty of our boys took these tests, and they did not seem to find them too difficult. They were John Barr, Dwight Carter, Maynard Fader, Albert Jackson, Robert Macomber, Alan McIntosh, Robert McClellan, Francis Mastropieri, Robert Oliver, Arthur Salamone, Robert Tisdale, Alan Whitney, Robert Wise, Robert Williams, Henry Ward, John Bailey, Albert Smith, Warren Goddard, Robert Warwick, and Robert Mackintosh.

Can this be that most highly lauded staff of the well-known school magazine, the "Advocate," which is published twice a year by the students of Needham High School? It certainly is, and this year, like every other, they've done a wonderful job, as you can see by just glancing through this yearbook.

Many things have been rationed this year, but one thing that hasn't is expenses. These seem to rise and rise, but they have been ably met by the members of the Business Board, who, armed with budgets, accounts, and red and black ink, have managed to keep expenses at a minimum.

A final word of praise should be given to the student body for their fine literary contributions and support, and to the Staff advisors for their helpful advice and encouragement. Without these, the "Advocate" would not be one-half as enjoyable as we hope you will find it.

Second Row: Miss Steele, E. Vaughan, M. J. Keating, P. Powers, J. Irving, C. Franke, R. Wheeler.

The Library Club has done a fine job this year in aiding pupils in their search for knowledge, particularly because their work has been increased since the closing of the town library. The girls who deserve all our thanks are Carolyn Franke, Dorothy Taylor, Joan Irving, Mary Jane Keating, Phyllis Brupbacher, Jeannette Minkovitz, Eleanor Vaughan, Phyllis MacEachern, Phyllis Powers and Betty Burns. Much credit should also go to Miss Steele who spends much of her time supervising the work.

Several new books have been added to our library this year — most of them bought with money from fines. Featured among these are several good books on China, including Mme. Chiang Kai Shek's This is Our China; some on South America, aviation, and war careers — all very important subject in these times.

Several new books have been added to our library this year — most of them bought with money from fines. Featured among these are a few good books on China, including Mme. Chiang Kai Shek's "This is Our China" and "I Speak for the Chinese" by Carl Crow. As Pan-Americanism is being stressed more than ever, we have added books on that subject, some of which are "America Faces South" by T. R. Ybarra and "Roundabout South America" by Anne M. Peck. Other subjects featured are aviation, economics, and war careers — all very important in these times.

Band

Our band was accorded a real honor last February when the great Rubinoff directed them in the march "Military Escort" at his concert in the High School Auditorium. The addition of the bell-lyre and increased interest have also helped to make this year's band one of the best ever turned out by Needham High.

Orchestra

In spite of the fact that many prominent members of the orchestra graduated last year, Mr. Fisher has produced an orchestra this year that lives up to every expectation. They have been on hand nearly every Monday morning to usher us into the Assembly Hall with a peppy march, and have worked very hard preparing graduation music.

Boys' Glee Club

The girls of the Leaders' Club appreciate the abilities of the Boys' Glee Club more than anyone else, because they share the gym with the boys during organization period on Monday. The boys have been keeping up their usual good work this year, and have been learning all the "old songs", so that they can take part in any barber-shop quartet.

Girls' Glee Club

Mr. Fisher has again this year kept the girls' voices on key by their weekly workouts in the auditorium. We are really sorry that there was no operetta this year to give them all a chance to show their skill.

Leaders' Club

The Leaders' Club has met during Organization Period every Monday since September. This one period a week has been enjoyed tremendously by all the girls. Leaders' Club teaches girls who are outstanding and interested in gymnasium work to develop leadership in as many activities as possible, and also to learn and carry out the rules for safety in the department. The members are able, therefore, to be very helpful to Miss Carroll in regular gym classes by umpiring and refereeing team games. Leaders' Club also encourages girls who need extra assistance to become more sure of themselves.

The Leaders' Club has also played an important part in our gym work this year by participating and interesting others in the Victory Program suggested to the youth of today by the United States Government. Strength, endurance, and co-ordination are the three qualities which are being most emphasized in this program.

The responsibility of leadership which is given to these girls is excellent experience; it gives confidence and poise which are very helpful now and will be needed even more after graduation.

The Club this year made an outstanding showing in the Girls' Gym Demonstration which was held on the High School field recently. Arrayed in blue and white costumes, with majorette hats, the girls demonstrated their ability in a spectacular military drill.

Sophomore Hop

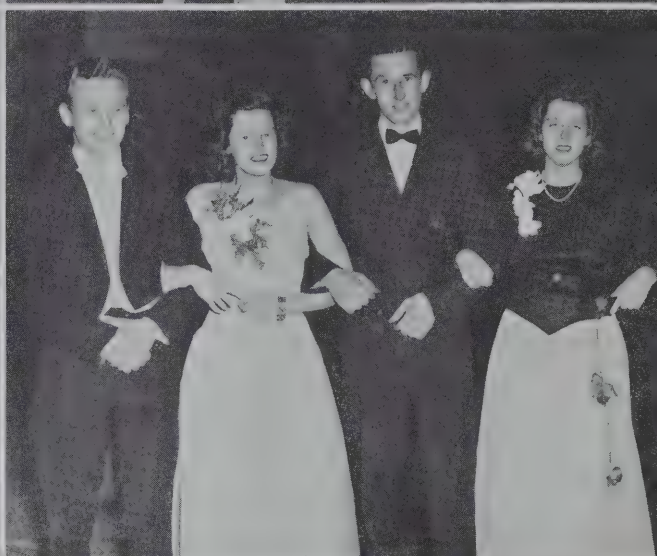

This year the Sophomores held their dance Friday, April 30. Despite rationing, about sixty couples danced to the music of the Modernairs from eight until eleven P.M. Red flood-lights set off the gym undecorated because of the recent ban on decorations.

Featured were two novelty dances which were won by Jack Dewey and June Anderson, Bud Buckley and Wilma Cook. War savings stamps were presented to them. Refreshments of ice cream, cookies, and punch were enjoyed at intermission. Dancing was then resumed for the remainder of the evening. On the general committee for the dance were Martha Worth, Sandy Smith, Don Richwagen, and Joe Allard.

S. A. A. Dance

The decoration committee of this year's dance cleverly planned the decorations to serve a two-fold purpose. War posters were collected and attractively used to decorate our gym. Besides being appropriate decorations, they reminded us of our tremendous task.

It was a good night, and about sixty couples danced to the music of the Modernairs. At intermission the dancers stopped long enough to enjoy the refreshments that were served. Dancing was again resumed until 11:30 and thus another enjoyable S. A. A. Dance came to an end. We are indebted to all the committees for their efficient work.

Senior Prom

No decorations, no refreshments, no orchestra, no cars — such were the conditions which confronted the Seniors when they began to plan for their Prom. However, the Seniors can be congratulated on the grand job they did under such conditions.

Despite the fact that everyone had to walk to the Prom, about sixty-five couples danced the hours away on the evening of January 8th, to the music of the Modernairs. The colorful dresses of the girls offered a great contrast to the gymnasium which was gaily decorated with nothing. To Ruth Wheeler and Robert Watkins defense stamps were presented for winning the spot dance. Refreshments were served as usual, and at 11:45 another successful Senior Prom was brought to a close.

Junior Prom

The Junior Prom month has been February for many years; but this year the usual precedent was broken, because of present conditions, and the dance took place on May 14th. The Juniors were lucky in this change because it enabled them to secure natural decorations and thus be the only class of the year who were able to decorate the gym.

Amid colorful garlands and bouquets of flowers, over sixty enthusiastic couples danced to the music of Chappie Arnold and his orchestra. Punch, ice cream and cookies — the usual refreshments — were served by capable waiters. Although the Juniors changed the date for their prom, they "put over" their dance in the traditional manner, and everyone had a pleasant time.

Senior Play

Twenty-two members of the Class of 1943 stepped into the roles of actors on Friday evening, the eleventh of December. Behind the bright lights, they presented their Senior Play, "One Wild Night."

All three acts take place in the home of "Rodney Dodd", who mistakenly thinks he has but one day to live—thus the "One Wild Night." John Bailey, Barbara Stiles, Robert Watkins, and Beulah MacWilliams took the "leads." Each portrayal was well done—aunt, doctor, nurse, policeman, bandit, night-club singer, school girls, and teachers. Even the pantomime of "Hawkins" and "Dickens", the two truck-drivers, brought applause at each appearance.

Once again the efficient coaching was done by Mrs. Charles H. Beale, who was presented with a war-stamp bouquet at curtain call. Congratulations to the school orchestra and to the members of the various committees who gave their needed support!

Assemblies

Although movies seem to have been the trend in home room assemblies this year, we have seen quite a bit of the N. H. S. talent.

The program provided by Room 101 was really outstanding with its Spanish chorus—all songs in genuine Spanish—the slapstick comedy of the boys in 101, and an old-time trio, complete with straw hats and the beauty of the century—Roberta Binney.

The "Rhythm Rangers," composed of an accordion, a bull fiddle and a guitar, were offered by 313. Richard Thompson played the bull fiddle. Doug Garron, the guitar player, stirred many a feminine heart when he sang the old-time western ballads.

From 307 we saw Theresa and Joe Manganiello dance very charmingly.

Room 303 presented Nancy Mae Grant singing a group of songs. We always enjoy her singing.

The assembly by Room 107 started with magic tricks by Bob Watkins. Then followed music by the smallest little band in Needham, directed by Howard Daly. Church, Whitney, and Barr thrilled us with some exciting acrobatics.

Peggy Kuhn and Bernard Jackson of 209 gave us the balcony scene from "Romeo and Juliet." Both did an admirable job.

The Jackson brothers from Room 210 gave an interesting talk, accompanied by colored slides, on their years spent in French Indio-China. Also during this assembly Charlotte McElroy rendered two popular songs.

Room 207 presented the "Modernairs," who played a number of popular selections, much to our enjoyment.

Room 211 presented a short comedy entitled "Elmer." Stanley Richards played the title role and did a fine job.

Room 213 closed the home room assemblies with a variety show starring many of 213's glamour boys.

We have had many interesting movies this year, mostly about the South American countries and the armed forces. One of the finest pictures was "Target for Tonight," which tells the complete story of a bombing raid over Germany by the R.A.F.

Football

The Needham High football squad suffered a disastrous season at the hands of their strong opponent teams, several of which completed undefeated seasons. Although the boys lost all nine games, they maintained sufficient fight throughout the season to keep the scores of the rival teams reasonably low.

The Blue and White showed sparks of inspiration at times, especially against Natick. They scored more points on that team than were scored on Natick in all the rest of their games. Statistically, Needham defeated several teams. They piled up more yardage and first downs than Stoughton, Dedham, Milton, and Braintree in their respective games, but they lacked the scoring punch to make use of their gains. They wound up the season by giving their all in the traditional Wellesley game and nearly upset their heavily favored opponents in a thrilling contest. Right tackle Bob Macomber received honorable mention on one of the All-Star teams of Boston.

Hockey

At the beginning of the season our hockey team was graced with five of last year's lettermen. One of these, Ken Martin, left after playing a few games to join the U. S. Navy. Stan Newcomb, a newer member of the team, also left for the same branch of the Service. The team finished up in first place of the second division in the Bay State League. Co-Captain Gerry Gardner took second place high scorer in the League besides being on the All-Stars with Co-Captain Bob Heath. Ken Douglass and Warren Goddard made the All-Star second team.

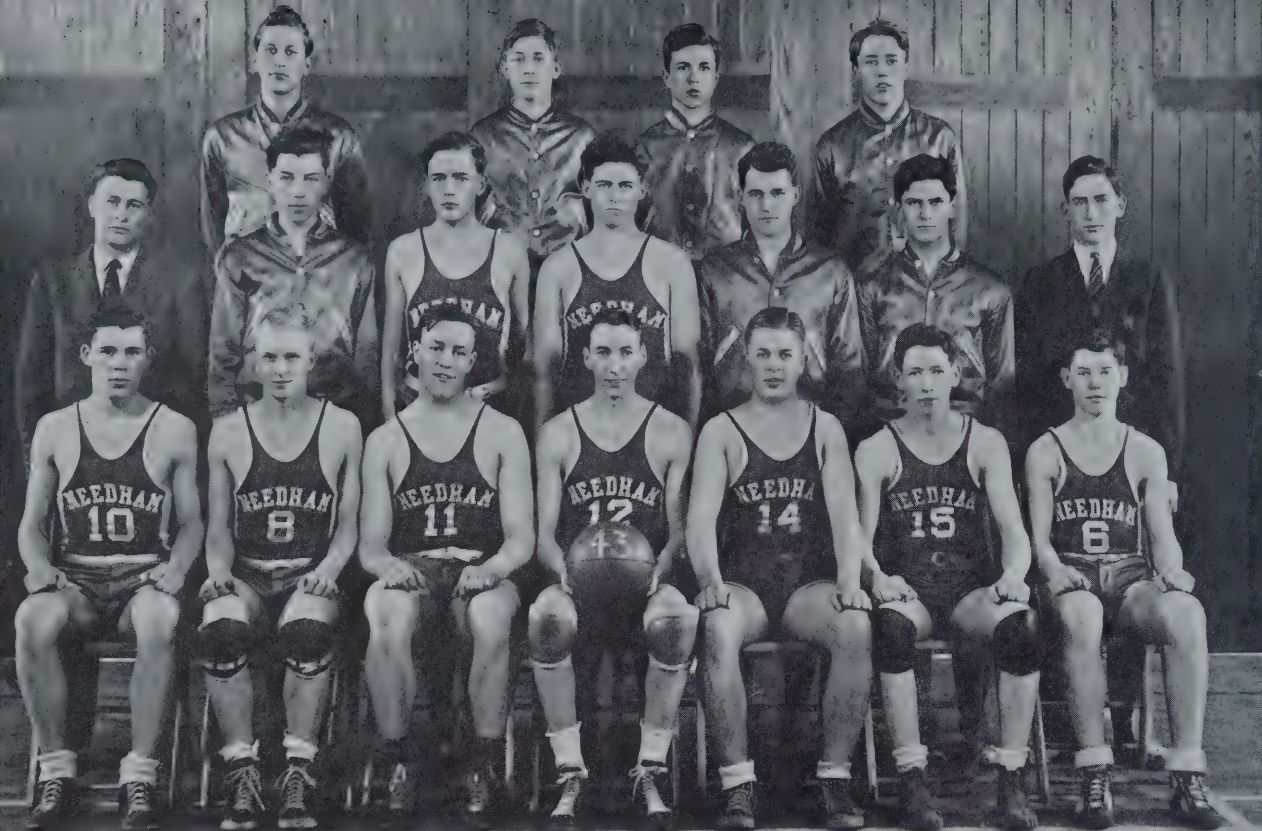

The team was supported by a large number of rooters who attended each game faithfully in spite of the difficulty in traveling back and forth to the Arena. Both the boys and their fans are to be commended for their sportsmanship throughout the season.

Boys' Basketball

Henry Ward and Norman Simon were the only two of last years' lettermen on the Needham quintet this season. Bob Powers, who made the first team, left early in the season to join the U. S. Marines. The number of games was cut to one third of last year's because of transportation difficulties. Of the seven games played, Needham came out victorious in three, losing two of the other games by narrow margins. Norman Simon led the team in scoring with 70 points. Mr. Claxton coached the team until a few days before the close of the season when he joined the Navy as an athletic instructor.

Mr. Boyd, the new Physical Education teacher, took over where Mr. Claxton left off and finished up the season with the boys.

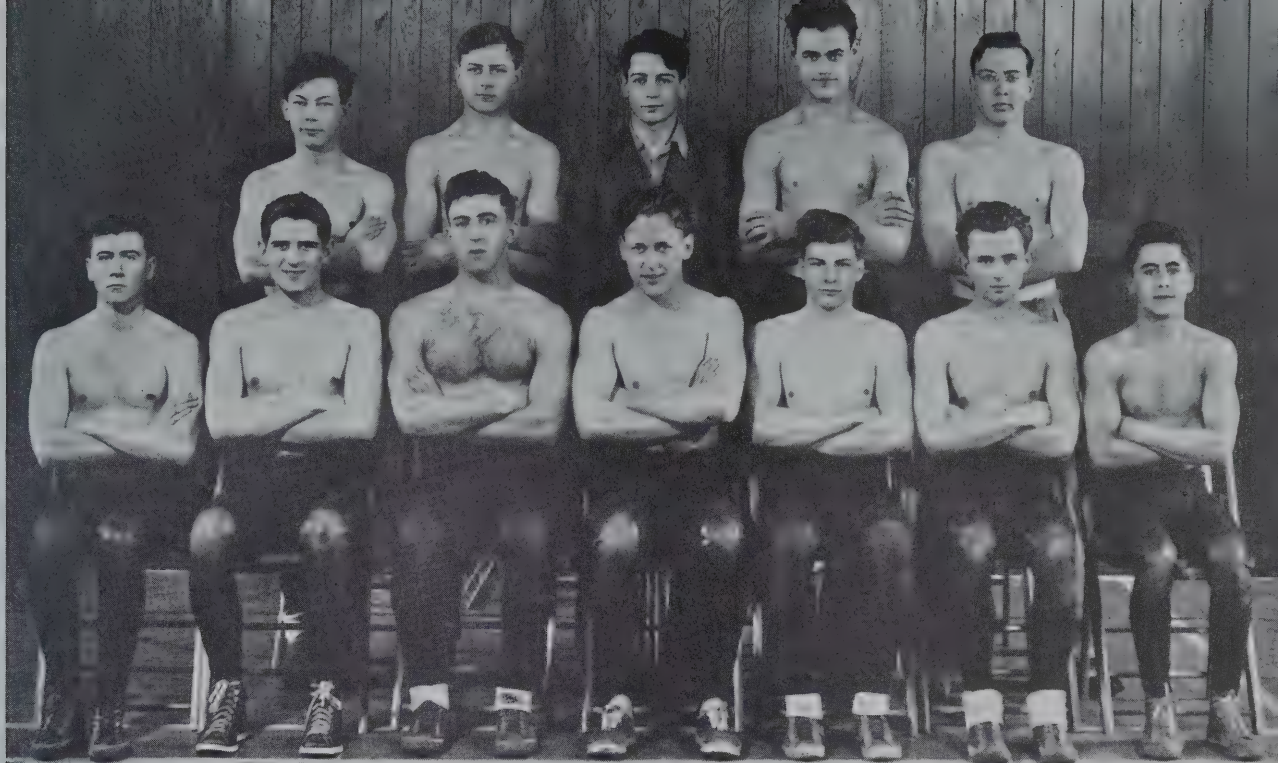

Because of the large number of able substitutes quite a few Sophomores and Juniors were able to gain valuable experience this year. With only three of this year's lettermen graduating, next year's team promises to be an excellent one.

Wrestling

The wrestling team suffered this year as a result of the war. Besides losing their crack coach, Mr. Defasio, to the Navy, the boys were unable to hold many interscholastic matches because of the lack of transportation. The self-coached team, organized and disciplined by Mr. Nelson and Francis Mastropieri, lost one match to Milton Academy and split two with Perkins Institute.

Baseball

At the time that this article went to press the baseball season was well under way. The first two games were played with Watertown who beat us 17-6 at Watertown and 3-0 on the home field. Martin of Norwood pitched a no-hit game to trim us 5-0. However, the boys showed improvement when they beat a U. S. Coast Guard team 8-4, in a practice game. The pitching is ably handled by Gardner, Yaniak, Moulton, and Gracey, with Smith catching.

Second Row: Miss Carroll, J. Mahan, B. Nutt, M. Ramsay, B. Dickson, C. Livingston, G. Lannigan, J. Gardner, N. Androckovich, D. McEvoy, E. Macy, B. Fader, B. Ogden, H. Hersey (manager).

Hockey

The girls' hockey squad had a victorious season with many a winning game. To the coördination of each player and the coöperation of the team in general may be attributed the successful season.

The Varsity Squad combined of the three classes certainly made a splendid record.

The Seniors, captained by Betty Ruane, composed most of the first team, but, without the aid of the Juniors and Sophomores, a successful season would not have been possible.

The front line held by Mary Walsh, Thelma Parker, Lena Ferrara, Jean Smith, and Lorraine Pignatelli, was supported by the hard-hitting backs, Betty Ruane, Jean Haller, Peg Stevenson, and Eunice Prior.

The Sophomores showed very good talent and we should have many fine players on the squad next year, if we continue to have Martha Worth, Jane O'Connor, Dorcas Neal, and many more of the Sophomores, too numerous to mention individually.

Second Row: P. Lothrop (co-manager), P. Tonis, D. Neal, C. Bissett, E. Prior, E. Bryant, E. Vaughan, C. MacGray, P. Brooks, P. Stevenson, Miss Carroll, P. Sykes, G. Lannigan, W. Cook, C. Livingston, B. Gerstner, B. Tomaino, D. Adams, P. Ogden, P. Hainsworth, B. MacWilliams (co-manager).

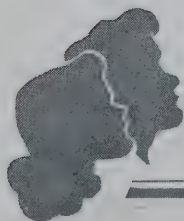

Third Row: B. Fader, V. Pike, J. Bond, C. Ulf, A. Vincent, J. O'Connor, A. Stevenson, R. Donati, J. Brockett, B. Morse, P. Kennedy, E. Macy.

Basketball

The Seniors had quite a well-balanced season this year. The teamwork of the forwards, Mary-Louise Crosby, Barbara Wells, and Janet Silsby produced many points. Protecting the team from strong opposition were guards Betty Ruane and Jean Haller. The girls really showed their skill in the Wellesley game, although they lost, but there was only one point difference in the score. We can't say much for the Juniors. Although they tried their very best, they had only one victory. However, they are to be congratulated on their high spirits.

The Sophomores earned quite a name for themselves this year. Led by Captain Martha Worth, the team was always full of enthusiasm. When neither Seniors nor Juniors could conquer their hardest opponent, Wellesley, the Sophomores walked away with a victory.

GIRLS' TENNIS TEAM

Bottom Row: M. Worth, J. Silsby, A. Stevenson, N. Rice, P. Stanwood, J. Gartner, W. Cook.

Tennis

The tennis season, although delayed by the cold, stormy blasts of winter, started off with a bang. Many girls turned out for it and the ability of each girl aided in making the season a victorious one.

The team was glad to have back Nancy Rice and Peg Stevenson, and Martha Worth, a Sophomore, has been a decided asset. We want to congratulate everyone who helped to make the season a success.

Gym Demonstration

Instead of a gym meet this year an outdoor demonstration was held on May 27, 1943. Every girl in the school took part in the physical fitness exercises. A colorful feature of the demonstration was the maypole dance. There were six maypoles, one for each gym class. Next were the western

Spring Sports

Two new activities started this year for the girls were the Dance Group and the Commando Unit. The dance group met Tuesdays and Wednesdays, while the commando unit met Thursdays and Fridays. Both activities were under the supervision of Miss Carroll; and because they were successful, we hope that we may have more of them next year.

dances which provided a little change in entertainment. For the final number the Leaders' Club put on a colorful fancy marching demonstration which included many complicated steps. Each number was accompanied by the band and directed by Miss Carroll.

Senior Soliloquy

(Contributed by "Pew" with apologies to Hamlet)

To pass or not to pass; that is the question.
Whether 'tis nobler in the mind to suffer
The D's and Zeros of outrageous teachers,
Or to take arms against a sea of flunk-slips,
And by opposing end them. To pass; to study
No more. 'Tis a consummation
Devoutly to be wished. To pass, to graduate.
To graduate: perchance to work: ay, there's the rub;
For in that life of work what jobs may come
When we have shuffled off this mortal toil,
Must give us pause: There's the respect
That makes High School of so long life;
For who would bear the whips and scorns of gym,
The pangs of despised tests, the bell's delay,
The summons to the office, and the marks
That worthy pupils never make,
When he himself might his passing mark make
With a little drag. Who would homework do
To grunt and sweat under a weary life,
But that the dread of something after school
The undiscovered dungeon from whose bourn
No scholar returns, puzzles the will
And makes us rather bear the course we have
Than fly to others that we know not of.
Thus teachers do make cowards of us all;
And thus the rousing thought of revolution
Is sicklied o'er with the ancient jokes of Frost
And copied essays of great pith and moment
With this regard their currents turn awry
And lose the name of homework.

Of course you have a "dream-job" in mind!

• Perhaps you'd like to work with a world-famous commentator—be the personal secretary of a charming actress—or confidential assistant to a noted aircraft designer.

The shortest distance between that ambitious fancy and actual fact is Katharine Gibbs secretarial training. It is not mere coincidence that employers with unusual (and well-paid!) jobs to fill turn first to Katharine Gibbs—5533 such calls last year.

Katharine Gibbs practical courses for high school graduates, including background-building college subjects as well as thorough secretarial training, will open the door to the job in which you can do your best, now and when peace returns.

Courses begin July 6 and Sept. 21. Ask Entrance Committee for illustrated catalog.
